OECD

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development

WHAT IS THE OECD?

- A consensus organisation in which governments work together to address economical, social and environmental challenges and work toward mutual solutions
 - (CONSENSUS: HIGHEST LEVEL OF AGREEMENT!)
- Born after World War II as the Organisation for European Economic Co-operation to coordinate the Marshall Plan
- Transformed in 1961 into the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development with trans-Atlantic and then global reach
- Today the OECD has 30 member countries
