The image shows the WWF Virtual House interface. At the top is a purple banner with the WWF logo on the left and the text "WWF VIRTUAL HOUSE" in white and yellow. Below the banner is a colorful illustration of a whimsical house with a red brick chimney, a purple door, and a blue sky background. To the right of the house is a list of topics to choose from, each with a radio button. The topics are: "Knock on Wood! Forests for Life", "Proceed with Caution! Toxic Chemicals", "Wildlife for Sale? Wildlife Trade", "Go, Fish! Endangered Seas", and "Cool It! Global Warming". Below the list is a link that says "Click here to learn more about your topic or" followed by a green button that says "ENTER house". At the bottom of the interface is the text "Come in and make yourself at home—and learn about our connections to biodiversity."
